What Are the Rights and Responsibilities of Businesses?

In general, when your business purchases goods or services from another business, you have similar rights to a consumer. This is the case provided there is no contract that contradicts this. While these basic rights can't be excluded from contracts with consumers, they can be excluded from business to business contracts. So if you're buying goods and services from another business, you should make sure that the terms and conditions of the contract don't put you at a disadvantage.
