Bab I sebagai pengantar untuk mengenali kriminologi, baik dari segi pendefenisian, ruang lingkup kriminologi, sejarah perkembangannya, hingga manfaat mempelajari kriminologi. Bab II menguraikan tentang pengertian kejahatan, penggolongan kejahatan, dan analisis statistik kejahatan. Bab III membahas etiologi kejahatan. yakni sebab-sebab kejahatan dari berbagai perspektif (biologis, psikologis, sosiologis dan lain-lain). Bab IV membahas reaksi atas pelanggaran hukum yang menyoroti segi pencegahan sampai penindakan atas kejahatan. Bab V merupakan pengembangan dari bab sebelumnya, yang bertujuan bahwa setelah dipahami masing-masing ruang lingkup kriminologi dapat menjadi pisau analisis dalam menganalisis fenomena pelacuran. Bab VI diakhiri dengan pembahasan kriminologi kontemporer, yaitu menganalisis kejahatan yang terjadi dewasa ini, suatu kejahatan yang mendapat skala prioritas dalam penanggulangannya (seperti: korupsi, narkoba, terorisme dan cyber crime). This book synthesizes the advanced knowledge in modern leadership science with leadership examples of Prophet Muhammad (SAW) and the history of the generation of the Companions. The approach taken is to start with a known modern leadership reference model that is well documented. It then collected and collated evidences from Hadith (a collection of traditions containing sayings of the Prophet Muhammad SAW) and Seerah (the life history, behavior and habits of the Prophet Muhammad SAW) based upon the classifications of the model. It helps to make the readers to become better leaders to help them personally and to help them provide much better leadership for the Muslim community.

Published in Indonesia in 2005, The Rainbow Troops, Andrea Hirata's closely autobiographical debut novel, sold more than five million copies, shattering records. Now it promises to captivate audiences around the globe. Ikal is a student at the poorest village school on the Indonesian island of Belitung, where graduating from sixth grade is considered a remarkable achievement. His school is under constant threat of closure. In fact, Ikal and his friends—a group nicknamed the Rainbow Troops—face threats from every angle: skeptical government officials, greedy corporations hardly distinguishable from the colonialism they've replaced, deepening poverty and crumbling infrastructure, and their own low self-confidence. But the students also have hope, which comes in the form of two extraordinary teachers, and Ikal's education in and out of the classroom is an uplifting one. We root for him and his friends as they defy the island's powerful tin mine officials. We meet his first love, the unseen girl who sells chalk from behind a shop screen, whose pretty hands capture Ikal's heart. We cheer for Lintang, the class's barefoot math genius, as he bests the students of the mining corporation's school in an academic challenge. Above all, we gain an intimate acquaintance with the customs and people of the world's largest Muslim society. This is classic storytelling in the spirit of Khaled Hosseini's The Kite Runner: an engrossing depiction of a milieu we have never encountered before, bursting with charm and verve.

Since the early twentieth century, Muslim reformers have been campaigning for a total transformation of the ways in which Islam is imagined in the Malay world. One of the most influential is the author Haji Abdul Malik bin Abdul Karim Amrullah, commonly known as Hamka. In Hamka and Islam, Khairudin Aljunied employs the term "cosmopolitan reform" to describe Hamka's attempt to harmonize the many streams of Islamic and Western thought while posing solutions to the various challenges facing Muslims. Among the major themes Aljunied explores are reason and revelation, moderation and extremism, social justice, the state of women in society, and Sufism in the modern age, as well as the importance of history in reforming the minds of modern Muslims. Aljunied argues that Hamka demonstrated intellectual openness and inclusiveness toward a whole range of thoughts and philosophies to develop his own vocabulary of reform, attesting to Hamka's unique ability to function as a conduit for competing Islamic and secular groups. Hamka and Islam pushes the boundaries of the expanding literature on Muslim reformism and reformist thinkers by grounding its analysis within the Malay experience and by using the concept of cosmopolitan reform in a new context.

A translation of short stories by the well-known Indonesian author, Pramoedya Ananta Toer. Written in the 1950s, these stories are intensely regional in flavor and modern in approach. This collection includes such works as "Stranded Fish," "Creatures Behind Houses," and the great "Ketjapi."

to-do list. But the Bible is so much more than a boring book of rules and regulations and stories of plagues and punishments. The entire Bible is a love story, and every chapter is a scene in the epic romance between God and humanity. In this sweeping overview of the Bible, Elyse Fitzpatrick reveals how each section--the Law, history, poetry, and epistles--points to God's eternal love for you and the good news of redemption through Christ. You'll find yourself drawn to the Bible like never before as you begin to see Jesus on every page. Discussion questions make this a great book to study on your own or with a small group.

Hamka menulis dengan melakukan perantauan. Melalui perantauan, ia mendapatkan banyak kontak pemikiran dan kebudayaan. Sebagai seorang nasionalis, peran sertanya dalam menjadi ketua MUI tidak dapat dipungkiri, ia berani memberikan kritik kepada presiden Soekarno, meski setelah itu ia dipenjara. Tidak ada dendam yang dilahirkan oleh Hamka. Ia tetap menulis meskipun di dalam penjara. Ia menuntaskan tafsir Al-Azhar di dalam selnya. Dan, ketika ia bebas, ia sama sekali tidak merasa benci kepada Soekarno. Bahkan, pada kematian Soekarno, Hamka-lah yang menyalatinya. Perjalanan yang menjadikannya penulis sekaligus Ulama ' , dan lebih dari itu sebagai penjaga adat Minangkabau, telah menjadikan Hamka sebagai Hamka yang dikenal saat ini. Tulisan dan pemuikirannya abadi meskipun raganya telah mendekam di liang lahat.
